

In honor of John E. Smith

WILLIAM JAMES AND HIS INFLUENCE

October 19-20, 2007 - Yale Divinity School

In an effort to promote the study of James, especially among graduate students, the William James Society, Yale's Philosophy Department, and Yale Divinity School present "William James and His Influence", a conference in honor of Professor Emeritus John E. Smith and Dr. Smith's contribution to the field of American philosophy.

Friday, October 19

* Opening Reception: 7:00 - 8:00 pm

Introductory Remarks offered by John E. Smith, Clark
Professor Emeritus of Philosophy at Yale

* Plenary Lecture: 8:15 - 9:00 pm

"The Ethical Implications of James's Pluralism"
Richard Bernstein
Vera List Professor of Philosophy, The New School

Saturday, October 20

* Conference Workshops: 9:30 - 11:30 am, 1:00 - 3:00 pm

Workshop Agendas

- i) Three Paper Presentations
- ii) Responder comments
- iii) Question and Answer Session

* Plenary Lecture: 4:00 - 4:45 pm

"Deep Conceptual Play in William James"
Peter Hare
SUNY Distinguished Service Professor of Philosophy Emeritus

REGISTRATION INFORMATION:

Registration is free.
E-mail Skorburg@gmail.com to register.
Include institutional affiliation and e-mail address
where you may be reached.

CALL FOR PAPERS:

Due Date - September 3, 2007
Papers should be 10-15 pages in length.
Submission is limited to graduate students.
Any engagement with James's work that proves illuminating and/or innovative is appropriate.
